American Flag Standards of Respect The Flag Code, which formalizes and unifies the traditional ways in which we give respect to the flag, also contains specific instructions on how the flag is not to be used. They are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The flag should never be dipped to any person or thing. It is flown upside down only as a distress signal. • The flag should not be used as a drapery, or for covering a speakers desk, draping a platform, table, or for any decoration in general. • The flag should never be used for any advertising purpose. • The flag should not be used as part of a costume or athletic uniform, except that a flag patch may be used on the uniform of military personnel, fireman, policeman and members of patriotic organizations. • The flag should never have placed on it, or attached to it, any mark, insignia, letter, word, number, figure, or drawing of any kind. • The flag should never be used as a receptacle for holding, carrying, or delivering anything. • When the flag is lowered, no part of it should touch the ground or any other object; it should be received by waiting hands and arms. • To store the flag it should be folded neatly and ceremoniously. • The flag should be cleaned and mended when necessary. • When a flag is so worn it is no longer fit to serve as a symbol of our country, it should be destroyed by burning by an authorized organization in a dignified manner.

Proper Scout Actions for Salute and Attention

Scouts who are attending official scout functions, troop meetings and saluting the flag, should understand and practice the following positions for a professional and respectful appearance.

Scout Salute

When the command "Salute" is given, scouts should stand at ATTENTION and SALUTE. The flag of the United States of America is saluted as it is raised and lowered.

- The scout salute is held until the flag is unsnapped from the halyard or through the last note of music, whichever is the longest.
- The scout salute is directed at the flag.

The scout salute is started at command of the person in charge, and held until the command of "TO" is given.

Scout Attention

When the command "Attention" is given, scouts should stand and assume the following stance.

- Stand tall, hips, shoulders square and level.
- Legs are straight, without locking knees.
- Heels together and aligned, the toes pointed out equally, forming 45 degree angle.
- Keep head aligned to face directly forward.
- Arms hang straight, elbows slightly bent.
- Hand should be made into fists like you are holding a roll of coins. Keep thumbs straight pointing down and knuckle pointing forward (do not tuck or curl thumb). Thumb should be aligned with the seam of pant.
- Remain silent and do not move. Allowed to breathe, blink and swallow.

The position of Attention is held until another command for action is given by the individual in charge.

Parade Rest

When the command of "Parade REST", which can only be from the position of ATTENTION is called

- Move the left foot about 10 inches to the left of the right foot. Keep the legs straight without locking the knees, resting the weight of the body equally.
- Simultaneously, place the hands at the back and centered on the belt. Keep the fingers of both hands extended and together, interlocking the thumbs so that the palm of the right hand is outward.
- Keep head and eyes as in the position of attention. Do not talk or move unless directed.

At Ease

On the command AT EASE, you may move; however, he must remain standing or sit in place. Talking and other movements are allowed in place.

Scout Sign

Scout sign shows you are a scout and should be raised when reciting the Scout oath and law. When a scout raises the sign all scouts should raise their sign and come to silence.

- Correct posture has the upper arm parallel to ground, and the lower arm 90° to the upper arm.

DEMONSTRATE HOW TO RAISE, LOWER and Fold the FLAG (Instructor Outline)

Requirements

Tenderfoot 6. Demonstrate how to display, raise, lower and fold the American flag.
